Facts and Speculations—A List of Possible Candidates for the Presidency—The Tammany Leaders and the Chase Movement—A Ready-made Platform by Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

NEW YORK, June 30.

Most of the rooms for delegates to the Democratic Convention here were engaged for some time past. As yet only the advance skirmishers are in town. Still this morning's trains each may be appropriately styled "Forty-Second Street Specials," bringing Democratic leaders from all parts of the country. Among the arrivals are Thomas Seymour, Gordon Granger, and scores of heavy fellows. The hotels clerks are busy. To be full, to have more guests are received at the same rates than those rooms have been engaged in advance.

Speculation grows almost painfully as to the candidates, and it seems to be generally agreed that the platform must be made to suit the nominee. To-day the bill of the house runs strongly in favor of Seymour. He is almost entirely without positive strength, but is spoken of as the second choice of almost everybody. Everybody is willing to support him, but he says he cannot possibly succeed, and boast that its forces are already shaky, and half of them ready to desert after the first or second ballot. Those most sanguine of Seymour's success believe that Illinois' forty votes will be cast for him on the first ballot, and that Governor Hoffman will follow suit on the second. Others, however, think that Governor Seymour will be found trying to produce combinations in favor of Governor Hoffman, or Governor Parker, or Governor Dennison, or Governor Hendricks, or Governor Wood, or some of the prominent candidates. In the event of the nomination of Governor Seymour, the New Yorkers, who have come to the front as the friends of the Chief Executive, will be found in the ranks of the Seymour men. Governor Seymour's friends in the convention are numerous, and they are working hard. Governor Seymour's nomination would be hailed with delight by the Democracy of the Empire State, and would be followed by a rousing majority for Democratic State officers. Governor Seymour's nomination would be followed by the election of Governor Hoffman, and the latter gentleman's election would be followed by the election of Governor Hendricks. Governor Hoffman's friends are numerous and influential, and they are working hard for his nomination. Governor Hendricks' friends are also numerous and influential, and they are working hard for his nomination. Governor Parker's friends are also numerous and influential, and they are working hard for his nomination. Governor Dennison's friends are also numerous and influential, and they are working hard for his nomination. Governor Wood's friends are also numerous and influential, and they are working hard for his nomination. Governor Seymour

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 8, 1872.

The Ousaud takes issue with the New York World in the statement of the latter that the Southern Democrats have given up the contest, and will let their seventy electoral votes go for Grant without a struggle. "Slavery Radicals will never again cast so large a vote in Louisiana. The great mass of the Republican votes remain unchanged, while the white population greatly exceeds the black, and the white vote under the new constitution will be several thousand in excess of the black. It is on account of the large negro vote for the Democratic ticket, remarking that the result at the last election in St. Martin, St. Landry, East Baton Rouge, West Baton Rouge, Claiborne, Caddo and Caddo, shows what can be done by proper organization and proper work. In those parishes the black registration was nearly 2 greater than the white registration, and yet they gave a Democratic majority of near 3,000.

The same paper advises the New York Convention to recognize the fact of negro suffrage as among the accomplished facts of the situation, and to insist upon leaving a general question of suffrage to the free regulation of the States, with no disabilities whatever between Northern and Southern States as to the right of fixing the qualifications of voters."

The political campaign in New Orleans has not been opened with particular vigor by the Republicans. The Grant ratification meeting last week was not noticeable for size, and its attendance was chiefly by colored persons. Governor elect Warmoth presided. Of the principal speakers were Those J. Durant and Judge Howe. Durant, it will be remembered, addressed a large meeting at the State House, to native reporters of the press address the crowd for the purpose of proposing the name of the speakers. They use the old cry of "Vote it," which is quite consistent with the fact that a majority of the persons present are carpetbaggers and office men, and retail the private political opinions. Such is Judge Howe, in this metropolis of the South.

Doubtless, as you know, has been fully informed by Gr. and Grand Pensbert in his not one concerning the nearly-elected State city officials. Why, it is hard to conceive. Nobody knows, or cares, for the sake of it, what shy he postpones the inauguration of his officers, other than he does not have very much to attend to after the election is declared. Everybody knows that the rule of labor and capital has been changed in this city. The carpetbag Governor and his officials were put in office by the Federal bayonets, and they have not the confidence of the people. Their power rests entirely upon the Federal authority, and Grant's withdrawal of the troops would be the signal for their overthrow. Under the present circumstances, therefore, it is policy for them to keep out of the way as much as possible, and to avoid the responsibility of calling an election. The rebel State officials would be the natural successors of the present incumbents, and the great Democratic majority would be entitled."

The Louisville Courier, of the 30th, says it received a telegram from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, stating that Chief Justice Chase had written a letter declining to go on the bench of the Supreme Court, after having made a little show, with draw after the month of August. The election of Chief Justice Chase would then be almost unanimous, and it is the great Democratic support could be sett

The Miserables

OF THIS BRIGHT AND CHEERFUL WORLD ARE THE DYSPEPTICS.

Without agreed digestion there can neither be true joy nor even tolerable contentment. Dyspepsia is the curse of civilization. It is the more to others because it is the more unseen. Its victims are to be found in every walk of life, and in every city and village. Its symptoms are so various that they cannot be enumerated, but among the most prominent are loss of appetite, nausea, heartburn, headache, constipation or looseness of the bowels, spasms, sinking or fluttering at the pit of the stomach, swimming of the head, hurried and difficult breathing, palpitation of the heart, low spirits, and hypochondria, or blues, the victim fancying himself the prey of all manner of diseases. Indeed, a large majority of the human family are troubled with dyspepsia in some of its forms, and a healthy stomach is the exception rather than the rule. Dyspepsia realizes the old adage that "Where there's a will there's a way," for it has conquered more wills than all the other ills that flesh is heir to. Its victims are numbered by millions, and the disease is still spreading. Why is this? Because the remedies relied on are local in their effects, while dyspepsia is a disease of the whole system. Stimulants, such as alcoholic liquors, aromatic bitters, and preparations of opium, only afford temporary relief, when they are followed by a greater prostration of the digestive powers. Nothing can cure dyspepsia but that which will restore to the stomach the gastric juice, the natural solvent of the food, and to the liver the healthy secretions which are indispensable to digestion.

The best advice that can be given to any one who has the slightest premonition of dyspepsia, is to try this or her digestive organs for the early use of Hostetter's Bitters. The change proceeds from a lack of vigor in the stomach, and this vitalizing preparation will tone and regenerate that organ. If the gastric apparatus is in good working order, and food digested and thoroughly assimilated, the most essential step to its operation, there will be no dyspepsia. If the disease in this it requires reinforcement; and the tone of all contributive agents should be invigorated, as the stomach is the centre of the system. In supplying the elements of which the blood is composed it is prepared the way for all the organs of nutrition. It is prepared the way for all the organs of blood, muscle, bone and nerve. It is to serve that material to each organ—and of a proper kind, the whole body suffers, and with it the mind, for they [illegible] and with the Commercial Preference. Lost.—There was lost last Sunday evening, on Wabash avenue, between Van Buren street and the Second Presbyterian Church, or on the north side of Van Buren street, between Wabash avenue and Michigan avenue, a gold Watch and Silver-gilt chain, with locket attached. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving the same at this office, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 20 Van Buren street, between Wabash avenue and Michigan avenue.

THE RAIN WEDNESDAY.—Will remain here this week only. To afford many an opportunity to see her wonderful performing Rain Horse. Don't neglect seeing the famous Dr. Hall her charger, the horse for dentistry—the horse of the wonderful curiosity and beautiful little baby, as follows: 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 P. M. Don't forget the place, for you will not take the time during the day, to see little Rain. The said Rain Horse will be at Crosby's Opera Building, entrance Wasot Wall.

THE WARDNER DAY OF THE SEASON.—Yesterday was probably the warmest of the season, the mercury having reached 96 degrees in the shade at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The state of the thermometer at 12 o'clock a. m. the mercury then standing at 77 degrees, was sufficiently indicative of the almost intolerable heat to be experienced during the day. Even the cool breezes which generally prevail on the lake shore were of a sultry character, and the effect of the intense heat on the inhabitants of this city was plainly visible in the languid manner in which the people of this populous city moved about the streets. The proprietors of the Wardner Bath House, and indeed, all those who had anything to do with the bathing establishments, were busily engaged during the day in supplying their customers with the means of cooling themselves, and no doubt they realized a handsome profit from the sales. The heat was not, however, by any means unbearable, as no similar heat in the city since their commencement.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—The hot weather had its effect on the Wallack Farnell troupe evening, and certainly not more than 300 persons graced the dress circle. The Imperial Guard proved a delightful attraction and is a most novel feature of the entertainment.

MCVICKER'S THEATRE.—The Black Crook was on as lively as of the White Fawn and a trifle worse, if anything. The scenery and costumes are as fresh as the Seven Cardinal Passions being able to be seen in the Black Crook.

WOOD'S MUSEUM.—"Nan" and "The Youth Who Never Grew Old" were very good in their humorous line evening at Wood's, and the company is one of the first-class character. Miss Mary Templeton, Washington Lewis and the other actors and actresses are all good in their parts. Those of character are all good. Miss Templeton is a favorite, and will do well to see before the end. Mr. Wood who has associated with him Mr. Washington Lewis, will be the best in town, has carried on a thoroughly well take street.

AMERICAN FREIDAY.—At the instance of Louis Hicks, Georgie Ewing was yesterday arraigned before Justice Salisbury, charged with perjury, alleged to have been committed in the Criminal Court on the 18th inst. The Court wherein Georgie was arraigned, was crowded with spectators, and the examination was conducted with spirit, and fully sustained the charges of the complainant. The defendant was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 to answer to the charge preferred against him.

THE FUTURE AT HAVERLY'S PARK.—The Richland Park Building Company propose to celebrate the Fourth of July in a manner worthy of the occasion, at Haverly's Richland Park. They invite all their friends to unite with them in the celebration, and have made ample arrangements for the comfort of all who may be present, and the convenience of all who may be present, and the convenience of all who may be present. The attraction of Richland Park on the occasion will be the base ball match between the Chicago and Forest City Clubs of Rockford, which will be played on the grounds of the Company on the day. Trains leave Chicago and Rockford at 9 o'clock a. m.

THEATRE.—The committee having in charge the annual excursion of the Second Baptist Church and Society, to Lake Geneva, desire to express their thanks to the following gentlemen, who contributed materially to the success of the excursion, by their generous donations of all present: To Wadsworth, Wilbur & Co., and the Union Stock and American and Northern Pacific Railroads, for the use of their elegant and commodious cars; to Messrs. Hall & Gholson, of the Lake House, for the use of their steamer, and to the officers of the same; to Messrs. Dole & Co., for the use of their boats; to Messrs. Weekly and Perce, proprietors of the Lake House, for the use of their grounds, and
